SQUAW VALLEY  ALPINE MEADOWS

Patrol Puppies at Work

There's nothing like watching a puppy play to brighten your day. Milton and his Patrol puppy buddies work and play in the mountains we are all missing playing in ourselves. So we thought you might enjoy the Instagram stories we put together showing them learning their trade. Don't worry, the video was shot in February. The puppies and their handlers are all sheltering at home and practicing social distancing right now too. Check it out if you need a smile.

We sincerely thank you for being part of our mountain culture and for doing your part to flatten the curve. The mountains will be here for you when we are able to explore freely again. In the meantime, we will continue to occasionally bring you relevant news, inspirational photos and stories, and operations updates as they are available. Until then, stay safe and healthy.
