19th Annual Metro Cup
By Bob Maclauchlan, team captain

Here in the year of Covid most of us expected this to be another cancelled event breaking another streak as so many events worldwide have had to do during this unprecedented year. But thanks to the committee led by Dr. Bob Akamine and assisted by Hi Risers Jessie Anderson, Guy Nerren, Dave Crookshanks and Joe Mazie (from Continental) they managed to pull the event off last Saturday. Along with the virus, mother nature also had to put her two cents worth in dumping copious amounts of rainwater on the golf course Friday and Saturday but we managed to start on time at noon with the water and very high winds.

Once again, the virus changed this from an everyone welcome event to a maximum of 14 per team. Both Continental and Hi Rise entered full teams while Fagowees decided to enter three teams into the four-person scramble event leaving only two teams to compete for the cup. In the 18-year history Continental has won 10 titles (including the first 7 straight) and Hi Rise had won 8. And once again we had a great battle bringing it down to the wire where every shot counted.

Medal Play men and women gave us two second place finishes with both Rick Smelko and Jessie Anderson coming up a little bit short. In two-person Best Ball (best score on the whole of the two golfers) Bob Akamine and Michael Stewart had a convincing win by three strokes. In the Coed Scramble, Becky Bertuzzi and Joe Tominc played a great round and easily won shooting even par.

So, coming down to the 4 person scramble we were tied with Continental, our team of Guy Nerren, Michael Shon, Dave and Justin Crookshanks were not happy with their game shooting 3 over par (Where normally top score are five under par or better) but managed to get in for a surprising third place finish. The other team with Larry Crookshanks, Harry West, Bill Starr and Pat Melio shot under par to come second, one of the Fagowees teams were in first place.

In the end we were victorious by 4 or 5 points to win our ninth Metro Cup.

During the raffle draw we had a few winners but Larry Crookshanks managed to win the grand prize, a night stay and two rounds of golf at Peek and Peak. Thanks to everyone that participated or wanted to and the organizing committee that made difficult situation into a great and fun day.

Vail Resorts Announces Plans for 2020-'21 Winter Operations

VR ski resorts will operate but will require advance reservations this season and other safety measures. Jenny Wiegand Updated: Aug 27, 2020

Vail Resorts (VR) announced today how it plans to operate its 34 North American ski resorts amid the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic this winter. The company will start spinning lifts according to schedule but plans to limit the number of skiers on its hills on any given day by introducing a reservation system that prioritizes season pass holders. VR will also enforce a number of other policies in line with coronavirus health guidelines, including social distancing on lifts and in resort restaurants, reduced Ski and Ride School group sizes, as well as the mandate to wear a face covering while on the slopes and in public facilities.

In a letter to guests, VR CEO Rob Katz outlines the main operational changes for the 2020-'21 winter season. Chief among those is how the company intends to manage mountain access to restrict the number of skiers on the hill in an effort to enforce social distancing guidelines.

"For the vast majority of days during the season, we believe everyone who wants to get on our mountains will be able to," says Katz. "We want to provide assurance to our guests that we will do our very best to minimize crowds at all times—be it a holiday weekend or the unpredictable powder day. We believe this approach will help ensure a safe experience for everyone, while prioritizing access for our pass holders."

Vail Resorts 2020-'21 Reservation System

- Pass holders will be required to make advance reservations before arriving at any VR resort at EpicPass.com
- Pass holders will be able to make as many week-of reservations as their pass product allows
- In addition to week-of reservations, pass holders will receive seven Priority Reservation Days that can be booked for any days between Dec. 8-April 4. The booking window for Priority Reservation will open Nov. 6 and be exclusive to pass holders until Dec. 7
- No day tickets will be sold to non-pass holders before Dec. 8, giving season pass holders exclusive access to the resort until that time
- As pass holders use their Priority Reservation Days, they can continue to book new ones as their pass product allows
- Families will be able to book reservations together if they are in the same pass holder account
- Lift tickets will only be sold online and through VR call centers; pre-purchased tickets may be picked up at the resort lift ticket window

To give skiers more time to consider how these changes may affect their upcoming ski season, VR is extending its Labor Day Epic Pass sales deadline to Sept. 17. It is also adding additional pass protection to its new Epic Coverage program to account for days skiers may lose due to the new reservation system if they are unable to book their preferred Priority Reservation Days during the pre-booking window of Nov. 6-Dec. 7.

Please keep in mind that this information applies to Vail Resorts properties. The Hi Rise January, 2021 trip to Whitefish Mountain is not a part of the Vail Resorts properties. We are working to obtain information related to our weeklong trip.
