Hi Rise Moves to the Local Tavern for Summer Meetings

Our summer meeting location has been changed. Although Spirits was a nice place to meet, it has become a very popular local hang out. Because many of our members were not able to get in or find parking, the Board began an investigation into a new meeting place. Several suggestions were made for members, and Bob Mac looked into each one. Bob, Roseanne, and Nate had dinner at the Local Tavern in Willoughby Hill last week. They liked the location, food, service, and open patio. You may recall that we met there nearly ten years ago. I recall it to be very pleasant. Moreover, we can hold a semi-private meeting on a lovely patio. There is also indoor space for cooler evenings.

Chef Jon Lox and business partner Tim Roush began a restaurant business in California.

After a while they decided to return to Ohio to start a restaurant in their hometown. They chose the Local Tavern location on Chardon Road in Willoughby Hills to launch their Ohio venture in 2012. Today they operate at two locations in Willoughby Hills and Painesville. We are meeting at the Willoughby Hills Local Tavern at 29007 Chardon Rd., Willoughby, OH 44092. To learn more about the Local Tavern and check out their menu click here.

Upcoming Events Captain's Game and Dinner Friday, June 16th

What's more American on a summer day than a baseball game? Answer: A baseball game and a picnic dinner! Even better... FIREWORKS! and Random Jersey Night!

On Friday, June 16th Hi Risers will meet at the Captains Stadium picnic shelter for some good old-fashioned ballpark food. Then we'll take our places in the stands to watch the future Guardians (aka Indians) stars. The Guardians play the West Michigan Whitecaps, a single A team for the Detroit Tigers.

Even more fun awaits us with Random Jersey Night. What is Random Jersey night, you ask? Wear your best old baseball player jersey from days gone by. The winner will be crowned by baseball jersey expert Zack Meisel, sportswriter for the Athletic.

All this sounds like fun to me. So, mark your calendars for June 16th. Meg Goetz will host this event. For more information see the flyer on page 12.

Hi Rise Announces

Trips to Crested Butte and Telluride

Crested Butte - January 7th to February 3rd - $1679

Telluride - March 16th to March 23rd - $1679

Both Crested Butte and Telluride provide excellent skiing with a variety of terrain and difficulty levels. And, we are staying slope side at each area. Did I make your decision even harder?! Whether you choose both or just one, you are assured of some great skiing and great people! See page 4 for a ski area comparison.

Operating two western trips is not unprecedented for Hi Rise. However, with increasing lift prices and airline fares Bob has done a yeoman's job ferreting out a good value ski package. Using the Epic ski pass option is one way to stretch your dollar. Member pricing for Crested Butte is $1679, and Telluride is $1,675. See pages 13 & 14 for more trip details. Pricing for each trip does not include lift tickets. You can still get a $50 discount on the trip fee if you purchase your pass from our tour operator. Here are the links:

Exploring Niagara Wine A Wine Tasting Extravaganza

Last month twelve Hi Risers joined the Wine Club for an excursion into Canada's Niagara on the Lake wine country led by Dennis Rosa. We left early Saturday morning – 6:00 a.m. early – from Quail Hollow arriving in Niagara Falls by 11:30 a.m. We had an early lunch on the bus and were ready for tasting by 11:45 for the first of seven wineries. Each winery provided a tasting of three or four wines. At some wineries we saw the barrel aging rooms and the big steel tanks for fermenting the wine. Most of the wineries made wine from their own grape vineyard; in this case, the wine is labeled as reserve. On day one we visited four wineries. BTW...at each stop we purchased several bottles of wine. By the end of the trip each couple has one or two cases of their favorite wine! On Saturday evening we dined together at a local restaurant. The food was good, but the service was -well - slow. Oh, well, at least we had a chance to sober up and chat. LOL

After breakfast on Sunday morning, we headed to Konzelmann Winery by 9:30 a.m. for a second day of wine tasting! At Konzelmann's we were treated to a wine paring with cheese and crackers. They shared some of their ice wine with us and taught us how to drink ice wine. I'll try to explain. So, here goes. First, remember ice wine is sweet – not just sweet but super sweet. Sometimes the sweetness can be overwhelming. It is important to understand that your sweet tasting buds are on the tip of your tongue. For that reason, you want to protect them from too much sweetness. How, you ask? Well, roll the tip of your tongue under so that the tip of your tongue is touching the bottom of your mouth. Now, the sweet taste buds are hidden from the sweetness. Finally, pour the wine over the back of your tongue and swish it around. I know, it sounds crazy, but it brings out the flavor of the wine so that you are not overwhelmed by excessive ice wine sweetness.

After lunch we continued to two more wineries and vineyards. On the way home after a check at the border stopped for dinner. We arrived home at 11:00 p.m. with some great memories of Niagara wine country...and a lot of wine!

Thank you, Dennis, for a great trip!

Call to Action

Please call on any one of your board members to share your ideas for events and let us know if something isn't working for you. We are the club leaders so, in this role we are here to serve you, our members. However, we need volunteers to step up to help with events and to chair committees, specifically, the social and summer activities committees.

Leading an event is, indeed, a rewarding experience. Meg has chaired the social committee for a few years, but now she has other commitments to attend. Thank you for your service, Meg. So, please consider volunteering for social chairman. The summer activities committee chair is vacant as well. This committee can sponsor sporting events such as biking, bocce, pickle ball, tennis, golf, or softball games. Both committees offer great social activities for our club and are vital to the life of Hi Rise and our members' enjoyment and new member recruitment.

Our request to you is for you to volunteer for one of these committees as a member or chairman. If you are personally asked to join one of these committees, please thoughtfully consider our request. Thank you, Your Board

In Case you Missed It The Busy Month of May!

Dinner of the Month Cinco De Mayo

Hi Rise Celebrated Cinco de Mayo at the Casa Agave in Mentor , Hosted by Arnie, who else! Thank you, Arnie!

Although this author did not attend it looked like the tequila was flowing freely – but not for free! The sombrero made its rounds as everyone enjoyed the Mexican cuisine. See for yourself.

Night to Remember The Hi Rise Banquet

One of the most time-honored Hi Rise events is the Annual Banquet. This year's event took on the festive atmosphere of a senior prom complete with corsages and pictures. All the ladies looked stunning in their lovely dresses. A few guys even wore tuxes although most wore suits and sport coats.

Just like the prom you remember there was a...band! The band House 41 played all night with music from the 70's and 80's. We took pictures of the prom couples and tried to guess who's who on the prom picture board. As the evening wore on the guys' jackets came off and the ladies' shoes came off. Unlike your senior prom which lasted through the night with an after prom, breakfast, or maybe even 2:00 a.m. Mass at the Cathedral and Cedar Point the next day, we wisely ended at 10:00 p.m.

You Can Ski this Summer in the U.S.

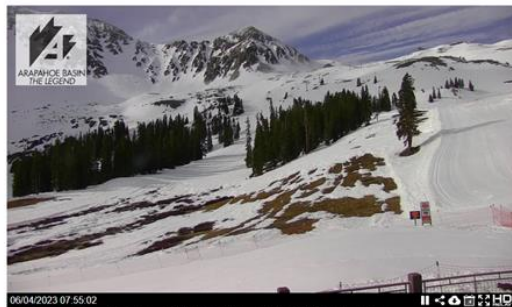

With record snowfall out the west this winter up to 75 feet of snow in some mountain resorts, according to Snow Brains five areas are still open if only for the weekend. As you can imagine it takes a long time for that kind of snow to melt. If you are up to it this summer, you can ski these areas:

1. Palisades Tahoe, CA – July 4 (Alpine only, and just weekends through July 4th)
2. Mammoth Mountain, CA – Aug
3. Arapahoe Basin, CO – June 4
4. Timberline Lodge, OR – August 31 (summer snow season begins 5/30)
5. Beartooth Basin, WY/MT – until the snow is gone!

Look, even the Hanarahan's favorite area looks to be open into August! Of course, these dates are subject to change, so be sure to call ahead.

A webcam view below from A Basin, Colorado from June 4th.

Black Mountain Lodge at Mid-Mountain

View from our mid-mountain restaurant, Black Mountain Lodge. You are looking at part of our upper-mountain terrain served by Lenawee Express and the expert-only terrain of The East Wall.

Summer Snow at SnowBasin & Powder Mountain

Even at SnowBasin that we skied last winter still has snow and was open until April 23 (Snowbasin extended season). Although they are not open for skiing, they have to remove and move snow around in order to make space for mountain biking and their summer concert series. Here is a link to a news report about preparing SnowBasin for summer activities click Snow at Snowbasin.

At Powder Mountain, UT the most recent snowfall was 2.5 inches on May 25th. They have not extended their season. In other Powder Mountain news, Reed Hastings, founder of Netflix, has purchased controlling interest in the resort and has seat on their board. His goal, according to the attached news article (Hastings purchases Powder Mountain) is to enhance PM facilities, lifts and parking. On our guided mountain tour, we learned that Hastings and his wife own a lovely home on the backside of Powder Mountain.

A Summer Snow View

from a Lake Tahoe Resident

As of mid-March 2023, Lake Tahoe received 624 inches of snow. I'll do the math, that's 52 feet of the white stuff.

What's it like to live in real snow country? My friend and former co-worker, Brian Fowler, from Lake Metroparks retired to Lake Tahoe area in the town of Truckee, CA. You may know Brian from Metroparks. He ran many recreation programs, the ski center as well as the Christmas Santa Workshop at the Lake Metroparks Farmpark. Previously, Brian lived near Camelback Ski area in PA. There he taught snowboarding. A couple of years ago he and his girlfriend moved to Truckee because as Brian put it – he wanted to experience a real winter!

Once in Lake Tahoe Brians began his career as a snow cat driver/groomer at Heavenly. Brian keeps us posted on his Facebook page. In early December, he said that the snow was up to his windows, and they would cross country ski to their neighbor's house and to work. Really pictures are worth a thousand words, so here they are!
